

The Peter Clavelle Award

To be presented by the Legacy Steering Committee as part of the Burlington Legacy Project

2011 Nominations due no later than March 15, 2012

BACKGROUND:

Peter A. Clavelle is a former mayor of Burlington and a 2004 candidate for Governor. Under his leadership, Burlington became a national model in sustainability, with emphasis on quality of life, high quality education for all, social equity, economic growth and development, and environmental health. His legacy includes eligibility of employee domestic partners in benefit coverage, and projects such as the Church Street Marketplace and Waterfront Development. Mayor Clavelle's vision led to the development of the Legacy Action Plan, Burlington's 2030 sustainability plan.

The plan is based on improvements in five areas related to sustainability: our neighborhoods, the economy, the environment, youth and life skills (including life-long learning), and governance. Taken together, the five major themes comprise Burlington's Common Vision:

- Maintaining Burlington as a regional population, government, cultural, and economic center with livable wage jobs, full employment, social supports, and housing that matches job growth and family income
- Improving the quality of life in neighborhoods
- Increasing participation in community decision-making
- Providing youth with high-quality education and social supports, and lifelong learning opportunities for all
- Preserving environmental health

At our annual Town Meeting, participants identified social equity as a priority goal in each focus area.

The original plan was written in 1999 with input from hundreds of Burlington. It was ratified by the City Council in 2000 and included in the Municipal Development Plan. Mayor Clavelle appointed a project steering committee to oversee the public involvement campaign and prepare the Legacy Action Plan. Its members include thought leaders in business, low-income advocacy, environmental conservation, academic institutions, youth services and social service communities. Today, the steering committee continues to guide the renewal of the Plan through measurement of indicators in collaboration with the community.
